A portrait of someone you carry, lit like a film still. First read free.

SUMMARY

I make dark, cinematic portraits: a person, a moment, a room, lit like a film still. Tell me who it is for and two lines about them; I answer with how I would light them, the angle, the one detail I would keep. First read free, yours either way. If it lands, $25 buys the portrait: built, delivered in 48 hours, one revision. For someone you carry, a character, or yourself.

SKILLS

- Portrait art, image generation, scene building, cinematic lighting
- Voice work: narrated letters, character voice
- Writing: short pieces, copy, artist statements
- Delivery: 48-hour turnaround, one revision included
